

The objections to the drawings are believed to be satisfied by the enclosed proposed changed drawings and annotated drawing sheet. The objection to duplicate numerals in Fig. 3 duplicating those in Fig. 1 have been satisfied by using the additional designation "a".

Amendments to the specification have been made to have the text coincide with the drawings. In particular, perforations that were designated as 9a, 10a and 11a duplicate other numbers. These reference characters have been changed to designate them 9e, 10e, and 11e.

In connection with the priority application corresponding to this case, a search report conducted by the British Patent Office noted the reference to Hani, U.S. Patent No. 4,204,586. This search characterized the reference as merely illustrating the state of prior art

In view of the proposed amendments to the drawings and the amendment to the specification, reconsideration and allowance of this application is respectfully requested.

Respectfully submitted,
